PLUMBING PRODUCT CERTIFICATION NOTICE NO. 49

(Supplementary to Plastic Pipe Certification Notice No. 21A)

To: Manufacturers of CPVC Pipe, Fittings, Compounds, Tubing and Solvent Cements; and Members of the CSA Advisory Council on Plumbing

Subject: Publication of Amendments to CSA Standard B137.6-M1983, "CPVC Pipe, Tubing, and Fittings for Hot and Cold Water Distribution Systems"

The Canadian Standards Association has issued amendments to CSA Standard B137.6-M1983, "CPVC Pipe, Tubing, and Fittings for Hot and Cold Water Distribution Systems". The amendments, published in May 1986 and attached to General Instruction No. 2 for that Standard, are as follows:

(a) revision to the reference publications showing the new edition of CSA Standard B137.0 (Clause 2.1);

(b) revision to colour requirements for solvent cement restricting only clear colour for use with CPVC pipe (Clause 4.4.2)

Effective Dates

CSA Standard B137.6-M1983, including all amendments published to date except Clause 4.4.2, will be the basis for CSA certification of CPVC pipes, tubing and fittings for hot and cold water distribution systems effective immediately.

After April 2, 1987, CSA Standard B137.6-M1983, plus all amendments published to date (including Clause 4.4.2) will be the basis for CSA certification of CPVC pipes, tubing and fittings for hot and cold water distribution system.

Only those products which have been certified as complying with the requirements of CSA Standard B137.6-M1983 plus all published amendments will be eligible to bear the CSA Mark after the Effective Date of April 2, 1987.

Direction

Customers currently holding CSA certification of CPVC solvent cement are affected by the revised colour requirements for the solvent cement (Clause 4.4.2). Although not required to submit an application, customers who wish to retain CSA certification after the Effective Date of April 2, 1987, must provide a written confirmation of compliance with Clause 4.4.2.

These letters of confirmation should be forwarded to CSA's Records Management Service, Rexdale, and must be received not later than fifteen (15) days before the Effective Date.
