Introduction:

This announces publication of CSA standard C22.2 No. 26-13 Construction and test of wireways, auxiliary gutters, and associated fittings. This is the third edition of C22.2 No. 26 and supersedes the first and second editions published in 1952 and 1935. Revisions to the standard are editorial only and will not require manufacturers of currently certified wireways, auxiliary gutters, and associated fittings to reapply. Any new submittals will be evaluated to the requirements of the new standard.
